Sylvania STEM Center's
FIRST Tech Challenge Application

Please read the information on these pages to understand the commitment involved in joining FIRST Tech Challenge Team (FTC). Prior to and after the start of the build season, we will have Tech training classes. Attendance is highly recommended.

The largest time commitment is during build season starting with kick-off in early September. After kickoff, the first few meetings, team members that have signed up for a specific area will work with their lead mentor and captain to create a timeline for your subgroup's tasks and days of the week you'll meet.

There will be opportunities for parents to help with the team. There are many technical and non-technical areas of service.

FTC depends on funding provided by students and sponsors to cover the team expenses such as equipment, registration fees and building components.

Sylvania STEM Center's FTC activity fee for the season is $350 per participant. Travel costs are not included in team fees and will be billed, at cost, separately. Generally, about $200 per tournament. We will compete in 2-4 tournaments per season.
